An almost unbroken rumble of explosions and heavy gunfire reverberated throughout the morning in the Folkestone area.The whole northern French coast appeared to be in a state of eruption area was particularly noisy.At the same time Mosquitoes and Bombers attacked enemy air-are missing from the night's raids.Remscheid is the center for the manufacture of machine and pre-

The specific target of the big bomber attack was the Alexanderwerk A. G., which covers 75 acres with special shops building machinery for the chemical industry and the manufacture of motor parts and small arms. There are also 25 smaller factories in the city.DVB in a broadcast over the Berlin radio recorded by The As-bombers were shot down in the raid on Remscheid. A "great number" of bombs were dropped on the residential area, the broad-

STREET WORK
CONTRACT LETFindlay Concern Only Bidder.
Gets $15,461 Job of Resurfacing Work.

The C. E. Edington & Sons Co. of Findlay yesterday was awarded a contract for resurfacing 14 miles of city streets on a bid of $15,461.50. It was the only bid received. Safety-Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell said.

Work on the project will begin about Aug. 10, a spokesman for the Findlay firm in Marion yesterday for the opening of the bids, told Caldwell and City Engineer Tom Cuthers. Once under way the project will require about three weeks to complete, barring unfavorable weather or an unexpected delay in obtaining materials. However, no holdup is expected in getting bituminous material, chief component of resurfacing substances, already released by the federal government.

Prospect Street Work
Biggest single phase of the entire resurfacing program will be the paving of Prospect street, from West Church street to West Mill street with road mix, a bituminous-stone combination consisting of one gallon of bituminous material and approximately 100 pounds of No. 6 stone chips per square yard.

When completed the street will be similar in composition to sections of Church street from Park boulevard east to Cummins avenue.

In recent weeks a crew of workers from the service department has been engaged in repairing streets to be paved or resurfaced. This work, the city engineer said, is expected to be completed by the time the contractor starts to work.

The Church to Mill street work project will be made with a machine equipped with a knife-like tool for leveling the surface of the street, city officials explained. The surface treating program planned for other streets will consist of applying 35 gallons of bituminous material and 30 pounds of stone chips per square yard. Streets to be resurfaced in the

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD, July 31.—A telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stratton of Richwood yesterday afternoon informed them that their son, Clifford Andrew Stratton, was missing in action. Signed by Rear Admiral Randall Jacob, chief of Naval personnel, the telegram reads: "The Navy department deeply regrets to inform that your son, Clifford Andrew Stratton, aviation ordnance man, third class, U. S. Naval Reserve, is missing in action in the performance of his duty and in the service of his country. The department appreciates your anxiety but details not now available and delay in receipt thereof. Please do not divulge the name of your ship or station."

Stratton, who was 18 last March, enlisted in the Navy Aug. 21, 1942. He attended Richwood High school. The parents received a short letter from him yesterday. It had been written in June.

One brother, Louis Stratton, is also in the service and is stationed at Camp Crowder, Mo.

FIRST PHOTO OF ANTI-WAR RIOTING IN MILAN. A huge throng of war-sick Italians here stage a demonstration in Domo Square in Milan, Italy, where, according to the German radio, a group of "fighting Fascists," led by Vito Mussolini, nephew of the ex-duce, have attempted to quell what Berlin terms "Communist" demonstrators. The famous Milan cathedral is in this square. Rioting has broken out in other Italian cities. This photo was radioed from Switzerland to England and then radioed to the United States. U. S. and British Troops Gain in Powerhouse Drive in SicilyBy The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 31.—A powerhouse drive of allied armies crushed more axis defense salients, allied headquarters announced today, as American and British naval forces drew a tight noose about the northeastern tip of Sicily and warplanes laid down a heavy offensive against mainland air-dromes.

Both the British Eighth army, which long had been held at a standstill before Catania on the east coast, and the American Seventh army driving in from the west scored substantial gains, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced.

Gallant American torpedo patrol boats, announced in action in Sicilian waters for the first time, swarmed like angry wasps off the north coast and even fifty miles up the coast of the Italian mainland, striking repeatedly at enemy supply vessels, sinking at least three, while British naval detachments shelled the Italian mainland and the Sicilian coast and cruised into the narrowest part of Messina strait hunting enemy ferries.

Axis Losses Heavily
The Americans and British in their ground advances exacted heavy casualties among axis troops, and the Canadians at the central hinge also stormed forward, capturing Agrigento after an artillery and air barrage which German veterans said was worse than anything they had experienced in Russia or North Africa. (The capture of Agrigento was first announced in Washington by Acting Secretary of War Patterson.)

The Americans captured more than 500 Germans among nearly 1,000 new prisoners in the northern sector.

The unconditional surrender of the islands of Favignana, Levanzo and Marettimo was reported. The three little islands form a triangle off the west coast of Sicily, the most westerly being Marettimo, which is 25 miles from allied-occupied Trapani.

American bombers returned to the suburbs of Rome to pulverize the Pratrica Di Mare airport, 11 miles south of the capital, and Flying Fortresses, returning to the mainland for another of their sledgehammer blows, attacked Grotte di Grotte airport near Taranto on the Italian heel, allied headquarters announced.

Warhawks in a savage fight over Sardinia shot to pieces a formation of German and Italian fighters, destroying 21 out of about 35. The Axis air force reeled under the lopsided score of 24 axis planes lost to one allied plane missing for the day.

American and British warships sweeping the Italian coastal waters in defiance of enemy shore guns sank one merchantman and probably an enemy motor torpedo boat and three heavily armed lighters. It was officially announced.

Allied cruisers and destroyers on Wednesday night bombarded important railway bridges near Lecce, 20 miles from Cape Muro, on the under side of the Italian toe.

Allied Powers
Work Together
in Peace Move

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 31.—The United States, Great Britain and Russia are acting in close harmony in dealing with the Italian situation, it was learned today, and it can be presumed that any armistice terms for Italy would carry the approval of all three powers.

This manifestation of allied unity became known as Prime Minister Anthony Eden summed up British cabinet members and heads of the fighting services to stand by over the week-end for any possible developments.

Other allied governments also were being kept informed Foreign Ministry Anthony Eden summoned their representatives into conference shortly after the early morning sessions yesterday of the British war cabinet.

Moscow Backs Roosevelt

How closely the allies were working together was indicated by the speed with which Moscow backed up President Roosevelt's warning to neutral nations not to give refuge to Benito Mussolini or any other war criminal. From the Russian capital, too, came the disclosure that Great Britain had sent a similar warning to neutral countries.

The early cabinet meeting created a wave of excitement in London and there was a feeling that big news was about to break—either a sudden capitulation by Italy or a possible new invasion blow.

This feeling was bolstered by a Vatican City report broadcast by radio Algiers that Luigi Cardinal Maglioni, papal secretary of state, spent yesterday in almost continuous consultation with diplomats of countries accredited to the Holy See.

Delay Angers British

As British public anger mounted over Premier Badoglio's delay in replying to the allied peace demands, the possibility was raised that he might be induced to step down in favor of someone willing to sue for peace on the basis of terms outlined by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in his message to the Italian people Wednesday. This, it was said, would provide an out for Italy in the event Badoglio had made any "pledges"—as Radio Rome has hinted—to Germany since the downfall of Mussolini last Sunday.

(In Italy, Badoglio, urging his peace-hungry people to be patient, said last night: "Italy cannot now get out of the war honestly and safely without the exercise of great wisdom and caution. This requires time.")

CIANO REPORTED
OUT AT VATICAN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 31.—The Rome radio said today Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's son-in-law, had resigned as Italian ambassador to the Vatican.

The Ciano was accredited to the Holy See last Feb. 7 after six years as Italy's foreign minister, a post which he had lost a few days earlier when Mussolini made a series of cabinet shifts.

Handsome in a swarthy way and 39 years old, Ciano is the husband of Mussolini's blond daughter, Edda.

Opening an avenue for a possible peace bid was among the ideas advanced at the time as a possible explanation for his ambassadorial appointment. Another was German animosity for him.

(Rome newspapers which were permitted to cross the border into Switzerland said both Mussolini and Ciano had been arrested and that they were held at the Palazzo Chigi, a Bern dispatch said.

Mother Kills 3 Children and Then Hangs Self

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., July 31.—A 28-year-old mother beat two of her young children to death today, drowned a third in a bucket, and then hanged herself, Coroner A. F. McDonald reported.

The victims were Mrs. Christine Dickey, Robert, 7, Harriet, 6, and James, 4.

The bodies were found in the family home by Earl S. Dickey, the husband and father, when he returned home about 8:30 a. m. from a war plant where he works nights as a guard.

McDonald said the body of one girl was found on the living room floor, that of the other girl on a bed room floor, and the baby sprawled in his crib, beside which stood a bucket of water. The girls had been beaten with a hammer.

The body of Mrs. Dickey was in another room, hanging from a clothes line.

LONDON AWAITS
NEW ALLIED
INVASION BLOWBritish Also Predict Italy Will Be Out of War by Tomorrow.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS
IN NORTH AFRICA, July 31.—
The allied high command radioed a stern warning to the Italian people today that the terrible offensive against Italy would be resumed immediately.

Some quarters believed a new allied invasion blow was imminent.

"Italy may be out of the war tomorrow," said the London Daily Mirror.

Meanwhile, patriot guerrilla armies were on the march in the Balkans.

The Yugoslav government-in-exile announced in London that Gen. Draza Mihailovic's 5th and 6th brigades of Slovene partisan fighters had broken through Italian lines and reached the Udine region of northern Italy.

Nails Take Up Positions

German troops guarding the Trieste gateway to northern Italy were previously reported to have taken strong positions at Udine. Developments in the Italian crisis over peace or war broke with lightning rapidity.

1. A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch said "it has just been learned that German troops have begun to disarm Italian troops in the neighborhood of Larissa in Greece."

2. Swiss-Italian frontier reports said the commander of the Italian 20th army had issued a warning of a possible allied invasion of Tuscany, Umbria and Latin provinces in north-central Italy.

3. DNB, the German news agency, said rioters in Milan, birthplace of Mussolini's outlawed Fascist party, were firing on German and Italian troops. The German travel bureau in Milan was closed.

4. A Cairo broadcast reported that axis troops in Greece fired on Greek guerrillas protesting against a German order assigning Bulgarian troops to Greek garrison posts.

Numerous patriots were killed and wounded.

5. The Berlin radio said German occupation troops had been removed from many Greek cities because they were needed elsewhere due to "military necessity" and mounting outbreaks by Greek guerrillas.

6. In Italy, Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio urged the peace-loving Italian people to be patient, declaring in a broadcast: "Italy cannot now get out of the war honestly and safely without the exercise of great wisdom and caution. This requires time."

7. Dispatches from Switzerland reported that Nazi-occupied France, caught up in the spreading fever of civil war, was rumbling with serious dissension. The Zurich newspaper Weltwoche said France's secret underground army numbered at least 250,000 men "obsessed with a burning hatred of the occupying forces."

8. From Berlin, a Spanish correspondent said German authorities were well aware that "the process begun by Mussolini is not finished."

London was alive with excitement, and dispatches said there was a feeling that big news was about to break—either a sudden capitulation by Italy or a possible new allied invasion.

The tension was pointed by a remark dropped by Foreign Minister Anthony Eden, who told the house of commons yesterday that the cabinet had decided against a war debate unless there should be "some marked change in the situation—and week-ends do sometimes produce changes in situations in Europe."

Mr. Hershner, president of the Marion County Old Age Pension Society, presided at yesterday's meeting. After the Lord's prayer in unison and the salute to the flag, the Ladies Quartet sang "In the Garden," accompanied by Mrs. Edith Noe. A report on receipts was given by Mrs. Desha Sharp, T. J. Mannan, Mrs. Houser and William F. Porter.

After another song, "Jesus Saves," by the quartet, Mrs. Lillian Loper gave a reading, "The Old Fashioned Way."

Bernard Sweeney, a soldier who served a year in Africa, was introduced by Mr. Ferguson and gave a talk on his war experiences. Mrs. Letitia Hayes gave a talk and pronounced the benediction. Three new members were enrolled and the attendance totaled 110.

FERGUSON REFUSES TO PAY PROBE BILLS

COLUMBUS, O., July 31 — State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today accused Atty. Gen. Thomas J. Herbert of "extravagance" in the Mahoning county (Youngstown) vice investigation and refused to pay $4,000 in bills.

"There are extravagant throwing away money and accomplishing small results," the auditor said.

The investigation, launched in May, 1942, has resulted in the indictment of more than 20 persons on gambling charges, and still is in progress.

Agents of the attorney general, under special investigator Simon L. Lewis of Cincinnati, have been raiding gambling houses, especially those in the "numbers" racket, and confiscating equipment and records. They also have struck at houses of prostitution.

The state emergency board granted $35,000 to the attorney general for additional expenses of the Youngstown inquiry and it is out of this fund that Herbert seeks to pay the $4,000 in bills.

The attorney general has said that the $30 a day paid Lewis is not excessive—that a high salary must be paid to obtain a man specially qualified to handle successfully the investigation in Youngstown.

FARM WAGE HEARING SCHEDULED MONDAY

Public Invited To Attend Session at Courthouse.

The general public, including both rural and city residents, is invited to participate in a hearing conducted by the county wage board in the court room at the courthouse Monday night.

The hearing was scheduled by Arthur Smith, county agricultural extension agent and co-ordinator of the board, after a preliminary hearing last month failed to produce the anticipated results in such matters as county farm wage, custom, and exchange rates.

At the first hearing the board decided the farm employer class was too predominant at that hearing and that the rate suggestions put forth did not represent the prevailing opinion among the county's farm laborers.

Mr. Smith hopes many more farm hands attend Monday night's hearing since immediate action by the board is needed to set up wage and custom scales in view of the pending corn and soybean harvesting seasons.

At the first hearing the suggestions made by the general public at Monday night's hearing will be voted upon by the board in a follow-up meeting. However, the decisions of the board will be only recommendations and county farmers are not required to follow the proposed wage and custom rates, which will probably be standardized by the board.

The recommendations made at the first hearing, when only about 30 county farmers and no city residents interested in the welfare of the farmer were present, have been discarded and the new scales drawn up as a result of suggestions made at Monday night's hearing will go into effect after action is taken at the follow-up meeting of the board.

POST-WAR

program for the armed forces and war industry workers.

The senators said they believed policies should be shaped under which the government would help private enterprise keep production lines going and thus provide the jobs returning soldiers will need.

"If you don't have the business activity that produces the jobs it won't do a great deal of good to provide social security benefits," Burton declared.

"It would be a wonderful opportunity for the President now to get business and labor leaders together for a discussion of plans for the post war period," Radcliffe said. "A great many of these men already are in the harness working for the government in the war effort and they could contribute some constructive ideas."

While both senators said they believed private business should carry the major share of the post-war reemployment of service men and women, they conceded that government help would be needed.

Burton said he understood that some progress already had been made toward writing into war contracts provisions under which the government will aid in financing reconversion of plants and machinery to civilian production.

Both men said they approved the President's program for war veterans, but asserted it did not go far enough. However, Mr. Roosevelt said yesterday that congress would have to work out the details of the program recommended by the special committee he appointed a year ago to plan "postwar readjustment of civilian and military personnel."

Allied Planes Eye Italian Fleet, but Drop No Bombs

(In the absence of Dwight D. Eisenhower, this column is written today by J. M. Roberts Jr.)

Allied planes are over the Italian fleet almost every day. This is no revelation of a military secret, it's just something that is bound to be true. But no bombs are dropped.

Outside of a flurry at La Spezia, Italy's important naval bases have gone remarkably safe free recently.

It may be only that our bombers have had more urgent work to do elsewhere.

But there may be another answer.

There has been the suggestion that the pendulum in Italy might even swing so far as to bring her into the war on our side. Don't laugh. Stranger things have happened to people on the backswing.

But the effect, not the action, would be the main thing, and as things now stand something would have to happen to the Italian taste for war if she were to prove anything but a liability.

But ships that have been maintained, that will run, and shoot—they never are a liability to the side which has them. Mussolini preserved a "fleet in being" for just the kind of rainy day that now has settled down over Italy. He wanted it to bargain with.

Now there is to be no bargaining, and the allies could use those ships. Not for our battle line, which would require extensive crew-training and refitting, but as auxiliaries which in the present phase of sea war, are almost as important.

If Italy is occupied, her shipyards and factories would be available for maintenance and supply of her fleet.

Reports that the Germans are pressing for movement of the Italian ships to Toulon and Marseilles may be true. The Germans can press. Messrs. Tedder, Doolittle and Spaatz will see to it they don't move. In the meantime, why destroy something that isn't bothering us, and may come in handy later?

SGT. JAY GORDON KILLED IN ACTION

Notice Received by Wife, Former Marion Resident.

Mrs. Jay Gordon of Ypsilanti, Mich., formerly Miss Vera Janice McDonald of Marion, grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Coit of 628 Davis street, received a telegram from the war department yesterday noon stating that her husband, First Sgt. Jay Gordon, had been killed in action and full details concerning his death would be sent later.

It was not known where Sgt. Gordon was stationed, but according to a letter received by his wife last week he was fighting Japs. In the letter he said, "Don't look for me till you see me, because I've got a few more Japs to clean up before I can come home."

The 26-year-old Marine had been in the service three years and overseas a year and two months. He was stationed in the Solomon Islands for seven months, but since then his whereabouts had not been known.

Sgt. Gordon was a graduate of the Ypsilanti high school and the normal school there. He married Miss McDonald in December of 1941.

Mrs. Gordon, who was a Marion resident until six years ago, attended Marion schools. She is a welder at the Willow Run bomber plant.

Walker To Decide On Step in Ohio Ruckus

WASHINGTON, July 31—National Democratic Chairman Frank Walker is expected to make up his mind early in August whether to attend a meeting on federal patronage in Ohio.

Walker, who also is postmaster general, is out west and will return to his office a couple of weeks in advance of the meeting planned by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

Meanwhile, the postoffice department insisted it was unaware of any controversy over appointment of a postmaster at Cleveland. Ferguson had suggested that selection of Ohioans for other federal jobs was being delayed by the Cleveland situation.

The department said only that a decision on the Cleveland appointment had not been made. Representative Robert Crosser and Michael Feikhan of Cleveland have made their choice and Ray Miller, city party leader, has endorsed another man.

Man and Wife Found Dead in Car at Akron

AKRON, O., July 31 — The slain bodies of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Baker were found in their automobile today in a near East Side residential district not far from their home, and Detective Howard Zlatoski listed the case tentatively as murder and suicide.

Summit county authorities meanwhile sought to identify the body of a man of about 45, found in a woods on the Botzum-Yellow Creek road near neighboring Ghent. The man had been shot once through the head and twice through the chest, and Robert Smith, chief Summit county deputy sheriff, said the victim was murdered in gangland fashion.

Morral Corn Canning Plant Prepared for Annual "Run" Dies at Westerville

40,000 Cases Expected To Be Processed; Government To Get Large Part of Output.

The stage is being set rapidly for the annual "run" of the Morral Packing Co. corn canning factory at Morral.

If all goes well, some 40,000 cases of corn, each one of them containing 24 No. 2 cans, will be processed at the plant beginning a week from Monday and continuing the next three and a half to four weeks.

In view of the fact that this volume will make a sizeable dent in the nation's wartime food problem for the ensuing winter, extra precautions are being taken to make sure the work gets done despite the current labor shortage.

Survey Made

The Ohio State Employment Service has conducted a survey among high schools of the Morral area and has lined up considerable high school labor to be used at the plant as needed.

To keep the canning factory humming with activity during its one-month run requires the services of between 75 and 80 persons. About 50 of these can be women, the remainder men.

Uncle Sam has taken a definite interest in the Morral factory. Last year, 50,000 cases of corn from the plant went to the government—and overseas. This year, the government already has spoken for 22,000 cases and may want more.

Any that's not taken by the government will be distributed throughout the country, to be sold under a number of different trade labels.

The company contracted with some 24 farmers in the area to provide 450 acres of corn this year, an increase over the 400 acres contracted the preceding year. The yield, however, is expected to be about the same as a year ago because of unfavorable weather conditions during part of the growing season.

With few exceptions, the Morral plant's run has been an annual event in Morral since 1908. O. G. Morral is plant manager.

STATE GUARD PAY TO BE INCREASED

Marion Captain Announces Boost Effective Tuesday.

A pay raise for the Ohio State Guard was approved at the last session of the state legislature and becomes effective Tuesday, Capt. Carl Elbert of Co. H announced today. The raise, for the enlisted men of the guard, is for official duty only and was based on the Army scale. Pay is now equal to the basic regular Army pay for official duty. Instead of a dollar per man the guardsmen will now receive pay according to their rank as follows: Private, $1.60; private first class, $1.80; corporal, $2.20; sergeant, $2.60.

Monday night will be the first day of the drive to recruit enough men to bring the unit up to full active strength before the regimental officers arrive Tuesday for the presentation of attendance awards. Dr. T. H. Sutherland will be at the Armory Monday night to give physical examinations to all recruits.

The grocers named were John Vastano, Ernest R. Bonanno, Frank Schenk, Earl Sloan, William L. Keel, Orville Walton and Walter Wright. The slaughterer accused was Perry C. Dimeyer.

DeGaulle and Giraud Settle Differences

ALGIERS, July 31—Unification of the French armed forces under Gen. Henri Giraud as commander-in-chief was announced officially today, together with the appointment of Gen. Charles De Gaulle as permanent president of the newly formed committee of national defense.

Spurred by the imminent collapse of Italy, the French national committee of liberation united all the fighting forces of the empire under General Giraud and appointed General De Gaulle to head the new committee of national defense.

General Paul Le Gentilhomme, veteran DeGaulle military leader, will be appointed to the new office of war minister.

By solving the eight-month-old dispute between Giraud and DeGaulle over the command of French military strength and harmonizing all elements of the empire, the French committee presented a united front to the United States and Britain in seeking recognition among the United Nations.

Air Service To Speed Letters from War Fronts

CHICAGO, July 31 — Letters to and from the nation's soldiers overseas will be given speedier delivery within the next few months—all air-mail service—says Maj. Gen. Harold George, commanding officer of the air transport command.

The ATC, before the end of 1943, will be carrying all the first class mail to and from every theater of operations, Gen. George said, adding "this will tremendously speed up communications between our fighting men and their families and friends at home."

George Raft in Ohio Film

"Background to Danger" is Drama of War Intrigue in Turkish Setting.

Now playing at the Ohio theater and continuing through Thursday is "Background to Danger" starring George Raft, Brenda Marshall and Sydney Greenstreet. Little-known Turkey, holding the strategically important Dardanelles is the locale for this film. A plot to disrupt the Russian-Turkish relations is the basis for the story and it is laid against the drama of counter-espionage.

A play which envelope is the magnet for murder, kidnapping, wild pursuits and suspense. Raft is cast as a tough, hard-hitting G-man who runs into trouble when he is given an envelope, supposedly containing money and securities, by Osa Massen, whom he meets in a Baghdad-Istanbul express in Turkey.

The envelope contains, however, material that a sinister crew of Nazi agents are after at any cost. Headed by the sneaky ruthless Colonel Robinson, played by Sydney Greenstreet, they put Raft into hot water.

Raft is kidnapped by the Gestapo but is rescued by Peter Lorre and Brenda Marshall, who are cast as two Russian counter-espionage agents.

"Stormy Weather" starring Lena Horne, Bill Robinson and Cab Calloway will start Friday and continue through Thursday.

PLEASANT TP. BAND ARRANGES BENEFIT

Aug. 11 Concert Proceeds To Be Used for Equipment.

Plans for an evening festival and band concert marking the first anniversary of the Pleasant Township Band were announced today by C. M. Clark, president of the Pleasant Township Band Association. The festival is scheduled for the evening of Aug. 11 and will be held at the Pleasant Township school.

A similar festival was held last fall at which time the money was raised with the help of the community to purchase an instrument. Since the band was organized it has made several public appearances under the direction of Milton Baker and will play again this year at the Marion County Fair.

New uniforms and instruments are needed of the festival and the proceeds of the festival will be used to obtain the necessary equipment. Mr. Clark said today. Officers of the association have appointed a committee this year to handle the donations and financial support. It consists of Mrs. Walter Mann, chairman, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Helen Myers, Mrs. Robert Wink, Mrs. Glenn Hawk and Mrs. Albert Yeager, all of near Marion.

About every six minutes throughout the day and night a special troop movement is said to start somewhere in the United States.

New Deal Weakness in Rural Areas Might Help Willkie

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion.

The President, in other words, has lost political support among the farmers since 1940, while Willkie has gained.

WILLKIE'S ADVANTAGE.
Among farmers questioned by the Institute approximately one out of every six (16 per cent) was undecided. Most of the ones in the undecided group who voted in 1940 favored Willkie over Roosevelt. If this part voting behavior is any criterion of what the middle-of-the-road farm group will do next year, the Republicans would seem to stand a better chance of winning their votes than the Democrats.

Farm defection from the New Deal was evidenced as far back as 1936 and was accelerated in the 1940 election, when the G. O. P. made substantial inroads upon Democratic strength in the farm areas outside the south.

The relative standing of Roosevelt and Willkie today with farmers north of the Mason-Dixon line is shown as follows in the survey. Note that Willkie holds a margin.

Farmers Outside South.
Roosevelt 45%
Willkie 52%

ALL LIVESTOCK ABOVE PARITY

By The Associated Press
 CHICAGO, July 31.—All classes of livestock continue to sell well above parity despite recent price declines, a comparison of farm prices and the national parity level disclosed today. Parity is a theoretical price designed to give farmers a purchasing power equivalent to that enjoyed in some favorable past period, usually 1909-14.

Beef cattle are bringing the widest margin over parity, while hogs, which formerly sold at the largest premium, are now closest to the parity level. Only hogs among the four major livestock classes—hogs, beef cattle, veal calves and lambs—are selling for lower prices today than at this time a year ago.

The following table gives the July 15 parity price and the actual price on the farm for livestock, as reported by the department of agriculture.

Parity Actual Price
Hogs
(100 lbs.)	$12.90	$13.25
Beef Cattle
(100 lbs.)	$8.84	$12.60
Veal Calves
(100 lbs.)	$11.10	$13.90
Lambs
(100 lbs.)	$ 9.70	$13.50

Beef cattle were selling $3.66 a hundred pounds above parity, lambs $3.60, veal calves $2.80 and hogs $1.20 on July 15. A year ago the premium for beef cattle was $2.17, for lambs $2.87, for veal calves $2.48 and for hogs $2.73.

Part of the decline in hog prices, according to livestock men, can be attributed to the expansion in supply. For the first half of this year 29,897,265 hogs passed through federally inspected slaughter plants, compared with the previous half-year high of 28,092,260 head in 1924. Last year's half-year slaughter totaled 28,927,086 head. The second half of this year undoubtedly will show further increases.

New Owner of Blue Network Now on Job

By The Associated Press
 NEW YORK, July 31.—Immediately after becoming owner of the Blue network today, Edward J. Noble, after paying $28,000,000 in cash to RCA, went right on the job.

With President Mark Woods, he talked on a special closed circuit hookup of affiliated stations, numbering 158, to explain there would be no change in management or policies.

This sale means that Noble, who owns station WMCA, New York, will dispose of his interests therein to comply with the federal communications regulation that no one group or groups own more than one station in a community.

Besides his business connection as chairman of the Life Saver corporation, he will be the first chairman of the civil aeronautics authority and formerly was undersecretary of commerce.

Civil Air Patrol To Put On Drive for Army Flying Cadets

By The Associated Press
 COLUMBUS, O., July 31.—The Civil Air Patrol (CAP), which has won renown for anti-submarine patrol and industrial commerce raiding, has taken over a nationwide campaign to enlist flying cadets for the army air service.

Col. Earl F. Bakker, of Fort Hayes, an officer for the army's Fifth service command, said today that, between 17 and 18 years old were being sought for a 14 months training course, including five months in college, leading to commissions as second lieutenants in the U. S. army air forces.

Capt. Roger Valentine, adjutant of CAP's Ohio wing and secretary of the state bureau of aeronautics, and commanders were being contacted throughout Ohio to participate in the drive, and that all CAP members would have application blanks for signing envelopes. Seventeen-year-olds will receive most attention in the campaign, he added.

An air show will launch the drive in Cincinnati tomorrow and Cleveland's campaign will get under way a week from Sunday in similar fashion. A department store will decorate a show window to aid the movement in Columbus. Other cities are mapping similar programs, Valentine said.

Those signing up will enlist in the air corps reserve and 14-year-olds still in school at the time will be permitted to finish their current semester, after which they will be inducted as army privates. After basic training, cadets will receive a five-month college course in preparatory flight training, including 10 hours of dual flying instruction, then nine weeks each of pre-flight, primary, secondary and advanced training, enabling them to commission.

Enlistees failing to complete the work will be eligible for such air jobs as bombardier, navigator, radio operator and the like. Those "washed out" still will be members of the army air force, and eligible for officers' candidate school leading to commissions in the ground section of the air forces.

The civil air patrol was organized in Ohio by Lt. Col. Eddie Johnson of Cleveland, former state aeronautics director, and was incorporated into the office of civilian defense the day before Pearl Harbor.

The flying cadet enlistment drive is CAP's first assignment since being taken over by the army as an auxiliary to the air forces last May.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
Varieties of Neuralgia

THE FACE is supplied with two nerves. One is mainly motor; that is, it controls the movements of muscles; the other is mainly sensory; that is, it carries sensations of touch, temperature and pain from the skin and other surface structures (the nose, the eye, the teeth and the inside of the nose).

These two nerves are all mixed up and tangled with each other. If the facial nerve would just supply muscles alone, and the trigeminal nerve just bring sensations from the skin of the face alone, it would not be so confusing. But the facial nerve has a sensory branch which supplies the skin over the eye. And the trigeminal nerve has a motor branch which supplies the muscles of mastication. And they both intermingle fibers with each other through ganglia, which has always been the despair of the first-year medical student.

So the subject of facial neuralgia is mixed up at the source, and when anyone asks, "What is the cause of my facial neuralgia?" the doctor immediately wants to know, "What kind of facial neuralgia have you got?"

The commonest kind is, of course, what the French called very aptly the douleur nerveuse—painful spasm. It affects one of the branches of the trigeminal nerve—either the one that goes to the forehead, and eyelid, or the one that goes to the skin over the upper jaw and the upper teeth, or the one that goes to the skin over the lower jaw and the lower teeth. It is undoubtedly one of the most excruciatingly painful afflictions on earth. It comes on in paroxysms which are like lightning electric shocks. It affects older people almost exclusively—it is rare below the age of 40. Under treatment some of the most important things to remember are: Don't get your teeth pulled out. The pain is in the teeth and it seems natural that if they were gone, the pain would go, but it does not. Even if the teeth are pulled out, the pain will not go away. This removal will not help the pain of facial neuralgia.

Another form of facial neuralgia is caused by affection of the nerve roots of nerves—the ones that arise from the spinal ganglia—these are the ones that are in what is known as Shingles neuralgia, named after the late Dr. Greenfield Shingles of St. Louis, or lower half headache, because the pain and ache is in the nose and lower half of the face, sometimes going to the skin of the neck and shoulders.

It is nearly always associated with some disease of the nose and clearing this up, or relieving the drainage, clears up the neuralgia, although in some cases, the pain may be so excruciating that the ganglion itself has to be removed.

In the treatment of severe facial neuralgia, inhalation of trichloroethylene often gives relief and the sufferer should remember that the modern neurosurgeon can do wonders in the most stubborn of these cases.

NOT THE faintest sound," I thought the operator, then I heard my breath as I heard the ringing of the bell in 1720 when Ruth Hayes was reading, in a moment, the unbelievable accident of the "wilderness woman" was heard in that disquieted situation.

"What is it?" "I heard the voice going the way of the wind, and I should have recognized it, the cut tone was so different from the usual suave utterances of the Landfield manager."

"That is what?" he was saying, "I've no time to feel so late, carefully. Have you seen anything of the highbrow lady Vera de Vere who was your mistress last evening?"

Ruth is startled. "No, not a sign," Ruth's voice was startled. "Why?"

"Because I haven't been able to see her around here," Miller replied. "The old man is here, I talked to him, and I saw the other dame, the one whose name begins with 'K'—when I went up to the apartment, asking to see your friend, on the pretense that I had something of great importance to tell her. 'K' gave me the brush-off very smoothly; said her friend had a severe headache, was lying down and couldn't possibly be disturbed. She went out of her way to tell me that the dame had gone out early in the morning before being given insulin, but you are very much more likely to go into coma with out insulin than with it. Why not take it? You are badly mixed up about your diabetes. You had better go to a doctor before you die of confused thinking."
